At National Show

Sedalia Rose Society Entries Win Honors

Members of the Sedalia Rose Society carried off many honors at the National Rose Show held in Kansas City in connection with the 59th Annual Rose Society Convention held May 28-30.

Ed Brummet was awarded a red ribbon as second place winner in the competition for the St. Louis trophy for a collection of the best four hybrid tea roses in the North Central District, which includes seven states.

Mrs. Wilford Acker was awarded a beautiful gold trophy bowl as the award of merit for the best arrangement in niches, in which class there were 31 entries. Her entry, precious gems, included an art object, and both the ceramic container and the art object were made by Mrs. Acker. Mrs. Acker had nine entries in the various arrangement classes and she was awarded six blue ribbons, two red ribbons and one honorable mention.

Mrs. Ed Brummet was awarded a blue ribbon on an arrangement entitled "For Amber Waves of Grain", which was a design using yellow roses.

Other blue ribbon winners from the Sedalia Rose Society for specimens were Jim Richardson, for Crimson Glory; Ed Brummet, for an exhibit of three Peace roses in different stages of bloom; Oscar DeWolf for Mirandy, with an honorable mention for Eclipse.

Delegates from the Sedalia Rose Society to the convention were Ed Brummet and Oscar DeWolf.

Other members attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Richardson, Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Acker, Mrs. W. H. Eichholz, Mrs. F. W. Koenig, Mrs. Ed Brummet, Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, all of Sedalia, and Henry Kipp, Stover.

Assisting at the show as clerks were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, Ed Brummet and Mrs. F. W. Koenig, and as tabulators, Mrs. Ed Brummet and Mrs. Jim Richardson.

The convention was held at the Municipal Auditorium, with the meetings in the Little Theatre. There were 651 registered from all over the United States.

More than 3,500 specimen entries were at the National Rose Show which was held in Exhibition Hall at the Municipal Auditorium on Thursday, May 23, which did not include the entries in the arrangement classes.

The coveted Nicholson bowl was awarded to D. O. Watsky, Independence for the best collection of seven hybrid tea roses.

Among the outstanding speakers on Thursday were Dr. Cynthia Westcott, Glen Ridge, N. J., who spoke on "Rose Research" and Dr. Walter E. Lammerts, Livermore, Calif., who gave the "Progress Report on Breeding Red Roses."

Friday morning a memorial service was given by Dr. Will Sessions, pastor of the Independence Avenue Christian Church, Kansas City.

A speaker at the morning session was Martin Paschea, Independence, who is famous for his roses and has addressed groups in Sedalia a number of times. His subject was "Roses for the Amateur."

Friday afternoon was a tour of a number of outstanding rose gardens in Kansas City.

Mrs. Gilbert Miller, whose arrangements are often shown in the Kansas City paper, was the speaker of the evening and she gave a lecture and showed designs with roses.

Saturday morning Dr. James E. Smith of the University of Missouri talked on "Soils for Roses."

Saturday afternoon began with a tour of Loose Park, where a courtesy luncheon was served by the Kansas City Rose Society.

Navy Push-Button Fighter Wins Wings

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP) — The Navy's push-button fighter, the F8U, has won its wings.

It roared into the air over the Mojave Desert yesterday in a 48-minute maiden flight. Chance Vought, its maker, said the performance was a secret, but termed the Crusader III capable of twice the speed of sound (760 m.p.h. at ground level).

The push buttons are part of an advanced automatic flight control system in the F8U. The pilot need only push various buttons to climb at a desired rate of speed and angle, to cruise and follow pre-set headings.

He Summons French Troop Commander

He Also Directs Resident Minister To Report to Him

PARIS—(AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle, armed with all the broad powers he demanded of Parliament, turned his attention today to Algeria and the army running it in his name.

De Gaulle summoned Gen. Raoul Salan, the French troop commander, from Algiers for consultation. Salan has been ruling Algeria openly in the name of the rebellious French there. An escort waiting at the airport whisked him off to see De Gaulle.

After thus asserting his authority over the army, De Gaulle called in Robert Lacoste, resident minister in Algeria who has a big following among the rebellious French colonists there. De Gaulle will go to Algeria Wednesday.

The country itself slowly returned to something resembling normal after a month of crisis, rioting, tension and fear. The troops were wearing their soft caps instead of riot helmets. Riot guns were stowed away.

While De Gaulle worked the French National Assembly prepared to vote itself the vacation De Gaulle insisted upon.

Just what form the adjournment would take was a technical problem but the measures already passed literally left the Assembly with nothing to do. The adjournment is actually scheduled for only five months—until the regular session begins Oct. 7.

De Gaulle's special powers extend by law six months from the date they are published in the official journal probably tomorrow. That would overlap the return of the Assembly but it could be discussing the next year's budget.

The National Assembly finished its endorsement of the new Premier's crash program early today. It authorized him to submit his constitutional changes directly to the voters—bypassing parliamentary approval—only after he threatened in a personal appearance to resign if the deputies tried to delay him with the debate and amendments they have employed to hamstringing previous governments.

Sedalian Among Three Prison Farm Escapees

James O. Tindell, Sedalia, was one of the three escapees from the Renz Prison Farm who were captured by the Highway Patrol Monday night near Jefferson City in a stolen truck.

Tindell was serving a four-year sentence for forgery, which he received in circuit court in Sedalia Sept. 7, 1956. He was convicted on two counts of passing bad checks to Roy B. Scarbrough, one for $15 and one for $10. He was sentenced to two years on each count, with the sentences to run consecutively.

The three convicts slipped away from the farm Sunday night. The Highway Patrol said the men apparently took the truck from near Wainwright, about two miles from the prison farm. They were stopped about seven miles east of Jefferson City on Highway 50.

With Tindell were Carl Sweet, serving four years from Pemiscot County for burglary, and Curley Holland, St. Louis negro serving four years for forgery.

Central High Integration Issue Heard

Vice-Principal Is First to Testify In District Court

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The vice principal of Central High School testified today that during the first school year of integration which ended last week she was constantly concerned about violence and threats of violence.

Prim, bespectacled Elizabeth Huchaby, was the first witness in U.S. District Court, where a petition by the Little Rock School Board for a 2½-year suspension of integration is being heard.

Describing the atmosphere of the last nine months at Central High, Mrs. Huchaby told the court teachers came to her atremble; some were weeping.

She said, in answer to an attorney's question, that "I have no reason to think there will be any change" next year if integration continues.

The board, which had supported Supt. Virgil Blossom's plan for gradual integration on the basis that compliance with the U.S. Supreme Court integration order was the only legal approach, now contends the year's experience with the plan disrupted the educational process.

Thurgood Marshall, Negro attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People opposing the board's petition, asked Mrs. Huchaby to identify the white ring leaders of racial incidents that marred the school year.

"Sammie Dean Parker was the leader," Mrs. Huchaby answered. Sammie Dean was expelled last winter for displaying a printed card which read "One down; eight to go" — an obvious reference to the expulsion of Negro pupil Minni Jean Brown, one of the nine Negroes enrolled at Central.

The Negro girl accepted a scholarship to an integrated private school in New York and Sammie Dean was allowed to return to Central on her promise that she would not become involved in racial incidents.

"Do you think removal of the Negro children would solve the problem?" Marshall asked Mrs. Huchaby.

"I would say ringleaders of the school seemed to me to be under directions from the outside. I think the problem can be solved by their (the outsiders) identification and control by the courts."

Many Cross-Charges

Alabamans Go to the Polls In Primary Runoff Election

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Attention centers on charges of Ku Klux Klan support and the thorny issue of Democratic party loyalty today as Alabamians vote in a runoff primary election.

The voters will choose between the two top contenders of a first primary field of 14 candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Seventeen members of the State Democratic Executive Committee will be elected on the same ballot. Along with 55 committeemen named in the first primary May 6, they will decide whether to retain the controversial party loyalty oath which, in presidential elections, now binds Alabama to the national party.

Runoff candidates for the nomination for governor are Atty. Gen. John Patterson, 36, who led the first primary field, and 38-year-old Circuit Judge George Wallace.

Patterson is the son of the late A. L. Patterson, an antice crusader.

Charges that Patterson is campaigning with the support of the Klan have been made by the Montgomery Advertiser, a daily newspaper; the Greensboro Watchman, a weekly; and Wallace. All said the attorney general has been associated in the campaign with Grand Dragon Robert Shelton.

Patterson acknowledged that he was acquainted with Shelton, but said he did not know he was a leader in the Klan.

The loyalty oath requires that before anyone can run in Democratic primaries, he must pledge allegiance to the national party.

WATER GEYSER ON BROADWAY — Motorists passing the E. W. Thompson Building on West Broadway afternoon thought they saw "Old Faithful" spraying out of the ground. But it was a broken connection in the water service line to the Thompson Building. A grader working in the area had snagged the copper service line and jerked it loose from the connection to the eight-inch main, causing the water to spray high and over the front of the building.

GOP's, Democrats in a Deadlock

City Council Fails to Settle Issue of New Sanitation Officer

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council had one of its long sessions Monday night which resulted in the "hot potato" of the new administration still unsolved: the ratification of a Sanitary Officer.

Party lines held in a vote on the name of James Franks, with the five Democrats voting "no" and the three Republicans voting "yes", after the name was submitted by Mayor Abe Silverman upon recommendation of Councilman Paul Hausam, chairman of the sanitation committee.

Hausam called attention to the fact that all of his officers and employees had been submitted and ratified by the council except the sanitation officer. In his introduction he said "in the best interest of the city government, I recommend the Mayor present the name of James Franks for sanitation officer."

At this point Mayor Silverman read two letters he had received in the past few days regarding the sanitation condition of Sedalia. One was from W. D. Keim, traveling manager of the Boss Hotel, and the other from the Pettis County Medical Society, signed by Dr. Carl Siegel, president.

The first letter read was from Mr. Keim, and is as follows: "May 28, 1958. "Hon. Mayor and City Council. "Sedalia, Mo.

"Gentlemen:

"I recently arrived in Sedalia as Traveling Manager of the Bothwell Hotel. My first problem was the totally unsatisfactory condition of our kitchen and food serving facilities. Practices and conditions were such that I immediately consulted with our central office and received approval to set out as fast as I could to remedy the unsanitary conditions I found, and am happy to report they have been corrected.

"I strongly recommend to you that you pass proper laws to protect the purity of food served to restaurant customers, or if you do have such laws that you see that such are properly enforced.

(Signed) "W. D. Keim "Traveling manager." The letter from the Pettis County Medical Society was as follows: "May 28, 1958.

"The Hon. Abe Silverman "Mayor of Sedalia, Missouri "City Hall. "Sedalia, Mo.

"Dear Mr. Silverman:

"At a recent meeting of the Pettis County Medical Society, there was a discussion of poor sanitary conditions in numerous restaurants here in Sedalia. Several specific examples were cited. "Subsequently a resolution was passed, recommending that the Mayor and City Council determine the city ordinances which define the sanitary code for eating establishments and affect enforcement of these regulations. "The Pettis County Medical Society, by this request, is not committing itself to any particular political policy, but rather, is recommending this action in the interest of public health and general welfare.

"Sincerely, "Pettis County Medical Society (Signed) "Carl D. Siegel, M.D. "President.

After the letters had been read, Mayor Silverman presented the name of Mr. Franks.

Councilman R. N. Snavely took the floor and requested the vote be by roll call.

The roll call vote was taken with Councilman Aubrey Case, Pat Clark, Woodrow Garrison, Earl Paxton and Snavely voting "no" while Councilmen Hausam, Harold Vogel and Clyde Safford voted "yes". By the five to three majority, no sanitation officer has been hired permanently.

Charles Simon, sanitation officer appointed by Mayor Julian H. Bagby, by virtue of the council failing to agree, will continue to hold the job until a successor is named.

Councilman Hausam tossed in a request to control political activities of city employees, at least during working hours, and another to prohibit the use of city property, equipment and supplies for political purposes.

As he took the floor, Hausam remarked that since the city election it had been called to his attention, and, in fact, just prior to the election, about the use of city equipment. He then requested an ordinance be drawn which, in effect, would prohibit the use of city property, city supplies, and city equipment for political purposes. If this ordinance were violated proper prosecution would be made. "I feel the city property was misused and I move an ordinance." (Please turn to page 2, column 4)

Decide Party Candidates

Primary Tests Knowland's Power in Governor's Race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A primary election tests Sen. William F. Knowland's bid for the governorship today.

Party nominations will also be decided for U.S. senator, all elective state officers, 100 of the state's 120 legislators and all 30 congressmen.

These were the key questions: 1. Whether Knowland can outdraw his Democratic opponent, Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, in what amounts to a two-party popularity contest. Each filed on the other's ticket — common practice in California.

Voter registration favors Brown with a 7-5 Democratic bulge.

2. Whether, and how many, Republicans will shun Knowland in protest against his decision to oppose GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for re-election. Knight's stormy big switch to the Senate race last fall shattered party harmony.

3. Whether as confident-talking Democrats say, there is a pronounced Democratic trend in a state with a record of registering Democratic but voting Republican in state elections.

For many years, Republican incumbents regularly knocked off most of their Democratic opposition in the primaries.

State election officials estimated the vote would run about 65 per cent of the primary record registration of 6,280,000.

A number of lively local contests, including a Los Angeles referendum on the Dodgers' proposed new baseball stadium, balanced the somewhat mild interest in the primary itself.

Knowland, winding up his sporadic campaign in vote-heavy Southern California, renewed his call for right-to-work legislation outlawing the union shop.

Already marked for defeat by organized labor, the Senate Republican leader said, "Collective bargaining should not be collective bludgeoning."

In contrast, Knight, described by high-ranking union leaders as a friend of labor, made another pitch for Democratic support with a statement hitting at "blind allegiance to a single party persuasion."

Both Brown and Knight have accused Knowland of seeking the governorship as a springboard for the White House. This Knowland has denied. But he has never said he would not run for president.

Knight's Democratic opponent for the Senate is Rep. Clair Engle of Red Bluff.

Survey Begins On Efficiency

Special Committee Studies Progress of Three Years

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A special legislative committee today began a survey of what has been done and what still remains undone of the recommendations of Missouri's Little Hoover Commission three years ago.

The commission made its recommendations in an effort to simplify the operations of the state's government, increase efficiency and reduce cost.

Many of the suggestions already have been complied with, either through procedural changes on the administrative level, or through changes in the law.

One of the outstanding advancements already accomplished was establishment of a budgeting system by which each department of government and each institution attempted to get from the Legislature "all the traffic will bear."

Others, just accomplished by the Legislature this year, included the transfer of the state purchasing division and state building planning to the office of the State Comptroller and Budget Director.

By those changes the comptroller, has more direct supervision over the millions of dollars in supply purchases and construction or repair of state buildings.

Many other of the Hoover recommendations still are on the future list, among them:

Classification of all state employees according to the type of work performed and establishment of uniform pay scales.

A requirement that each department supply regular inventories of property such as automobiles, typewriters, desks and so on.

Creation of a records center under the comptroller to coordinate the voluminous records of the revenue departments.

Mexican Liner With 45 Aboard Crashes Monday

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A Mexican airliner with 45 persons aboard crashed against a mountain peak near Guadalajara Monday night. The wreckage, found today, showed no signs of life.

The plane was a Constellation of the Aeronautes de Mexico. It was on a flight from Tijuana, at the California border, to Mexico City.

Some of the 22 passengers who boarded at Tijuana were Americans.

The four-engine craft made a stop at Guadalajara and took off for Mexico City at 10:01 p.m. It crashed against San Agustine Peak, 10 miles from Guadalajara. The last radio contact was with Guadalajara airport at 10:15 p.m.

The Guadalajara airport is at 6,000 feet altitude and the peak 7,500.

It was raining at the time of the crash. Some residents of Guadalajara said they heard an explosion at about the time of the crash.

Too Hot to Handle

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR—Flames billow skyward during a fire which gutted the C.L. Green Milling Company grain elevators at Winters, Tex. Damage was estimated at $100,000 and about 12,000 bushels of oats also were destroyed. The fire was believed to have started by a dust explosion in the top and quickly engulfed the building. The fire came at the start of the first good grain season in that section of West Texas in seven years. (AP Wirephoto)

Car Workers Bargain With Independent

UAW Still Lacks Contract With Big Three Auto Makers

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers, lacking contracts with the Big Three, sit down to bargain today with one of the car industry's two smaller independents, American Motors Corp.

The AMC negotiations, recessed in April, resumed on the heels of the failure of the union and Ford, Chrysler and General Motors to agree on new terms.

It was the first time Walter Reuther's union went to the bargaining table with a smaller auto company in the absence of a contract precedent set by the larger firms.

American Motors, which makes the Rambler car, employs about 20,000 persons in its Wisconsin and Michigan auto and appliance plants as compared with the half million workers of the Big Three. Studebaker-Packard is the other independent.

The aftermath of the unsuccessful Ford, General Motors and Chrysler negotiations was quiet.

Except for a between-shifts rally of an estimated 4,000 Ford workers Monday, there were no unusual incidents as Big Three employees spent their first working day without a UAW contract.

Carl Stellato, president of Ford Local 600, exhorted union members to "put in a fair day's work and behave yourself so Ford cannot lock us out."

There were a few cheers and a few boos.

Oklahoma Youngsters Seek Vacation Jobs

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma City youngsters apparently are willing to work — if they can just find the jobs.

One youth is going to advertise in the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman and Oklahoma City Times "I will do anything legal for cash. Desperate."

He's one of some 200 youngsters under 16 who have taken advantage of the newspapers' offer to run their want ads free next Saturday and Sunday.

The newspapers are making the space available — with a 20-word limit — to help youths find summer jobs.

One injured but willing 9-year-old sent in this ad: "Will mow lawns, have power mower. Start last of June as my right arm is broken. Cast will be off."

Another wrote: "I will swap anything to see in person the St. Louis Cardinals, the Milwaukee Braves and the New York Yankees."

Little League Opens Its 1958 Season Monday

The 1958 season of Little League Baseball got underway Monday night at the Little League Stadium in Liberty Park and also at the Housel Park diamond. Mayor Abe Silverman tossed the first two balls, with Jack Faber, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, on the receiving end.

The opening was preceded by a parade of 600 boys with their Little Leagues, which started at Seventh and Ohio, and toured down Ohio to Third Street and West on Third to Liberty Park. Expects Explorer III To Fall This Month

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory estimates that Explorer III, the second U.S. Army satellite, will plunge to its death late this month.

The observatory said Monday night the satellite, which was launched March 26, is losing about 15 miles altitude daily.

Its original apogee—or high point—was about 1,700 miles. This point is now only half as high. Smithsonian astronomer Jack Slowey said the Soviet Union's Sputnik III, launched May 15, may plunge to its end early next year.

Sputnik III, now invisible in the United States because it is crossing during the daylight hours, is expected to be visible again in about 10 days. It will show up then in the morning twilight.

In the petition, McKeehan claims the damages are the result of an automobile accident at 1700 West Main Nov. 13, 1957, in which a truck owned by the T & O Phosphate Co. struck a parked car in which he was sitting. The truck was driven by Oscar Robertson, he claims. He asks $25,000 for personal injuries, and the remainder of the total for the loss of the use of his car, damages to the car, and damages to a typewriter and electrical iron which were in the car at the time of the accident.

City Council

finance be drawn," Hausam said. Councilman Vogel seconded it.

Councilman Clark then asked Hausam, "How will we determine it has been used for political purposes?" Hausam said it would be up to the city officials to determine that.

Hausam then added, "I would like also to move an ordinance be drawn making it unlawful for city employees to participate in political activities during their working hours." Vogel also seconded the motion.

On a vote it was seven to one, Councilman Garrison voting "no." Councilman Safford, during reports of committees, and who is chairman of finance and taxes, brought up the tax on pinball machines and music or "juke box" machines. It was pointed out by Safford that there is an ordinance calling for a tax of $15 on pin ball machines and $25 on the music machines. He explained the ordinance was passed a number of years ago and the first year one of the big operators paid $1,100 tax, the following year it was $650, and the next year and following years it has been $300 "flat tax."

He said he is calling a meeting for Friday night at 7 p.m. in the city council chamber of the members of the finance committee, operators of such machines, and all parties interested to discuss the tax and either correct the ordinance, or enforce the collection of the tax as it is defined by the ordinance. He reported an operator said the tax was too high.

Councilman Hausam announced that Charles Ziegler, who had been appointed a helper on a garbage truck, had failed to show up for work on May 19 or since, and asked the council to declare the job vacant. The council complied with the request. Later in the meeting he requested the Mayor to present the name of David Butterbaugh for appointment as helper on truck No. 4 for the six months period. The council approved the appointment.

Luther Wright, 1501 East Sixth, a retired plumber, was presented to the council by Mayor Silverman on recommendation of Hausam for plumbing inspector and sewer inspector. Hausam explained the sewer inspector was being combined with the plumbing inspector and gave qualifications of Wright for the job. He was unanimously approved.

W. A. Spraggins, 1121 West 16th, was presented for reappointment to the Zoning Board of Adjustments, and approved by the council.

Pat Bernard, Marshall, was unanimously approved for appointment on temporary basis as the city engineer. Bernard, who is county surveyor of Saline County, will work part time with the Street and Alley Department in putting through the street program for Sedalia.

Councilman Garrison took the floor and reported on the street program. "We haven't gotten very far into the 1958 program for lack of petitions from the property owners to improve their streets," he said. He then reported that a tour of the city streets the past few days revealed some of the streets are actually unsafe to drive on.

"If we do not hear from the property owners on those streets," Garrison said, "we may have to enforce the 60 cent law on some of these streets, and this we don't like to do."

This law provides that the city may resurface a street by scarifying, graveling and oiling it and bill the residents up to a limit of 60 cents a front foot without securing the permission of the residents. It is considered a temporary type of surface.

It was after these remarks Garrison moved to recess the meeting until Monday night, June 13, when these problems will be taken up and discussed more thoroughly. Garrison also said there might be an ordinance drawn up designating these streets.

Ray Martin, 2101 East 12th, reported to the council that across Garfield and Mildred Street along Highway 50 where the new sewer line was laid recently, the street has sunk and left dangerous and deep holes. He requested the council to see that they were repaired. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

Three ordinances were passed: one for a Sewer Lateral No. 1 in District 138; one for curb and guttering on Poplar Place from County Club Blvd. to Honeysuckle Drive; and one for paving with a rock base and seal coating Fifth Street from Limit to Warren.

Councilman Safford reported on the parking lots, announcing all property on Main Street on the north side from the Shyrack Wright Grocery Co. east to LaMotte has been acquired and clearing the property of the old building has been ordered.

He also reported the work in getting the other lots graded and paved is coming along as fast as the weather permits.

Councilman Garrison reported on a petition of C. L. Cochran, 2101 East Seventh, at the corner of East Seventh and Garfield, requesting curb and guttering, 120 feet on Garfield and 46 feet on East Seventh, under private contract. It was referred to the city engineer for checking and approval.

Garrison then reported on several traffic problems and made requests for ordinances: 1. Changing the signs on Grand between Main and Second, due to a traffic bottleneck which has occurred since the new traffic lights were installed there. 2. He had received several complaints of speeders on East Fifth from Lamotte to Thompson, and recommended a 20-mile speed zone for the area, due to the narrow street and because several children have nearly been struck in that area. 3. A change in the parking on Liberty Park Blvd. from Park 300 feet west. He suggested the change be that no parking be allowed on the south side of the street instead of no parking on the north side in front of residences. 4. Saying he had received complaints of parking in the wedge at Broadway and Crescent Drive, he recommended "no parking" signs be placed there, because he said parked vehicles block the vision of traffic. 5. He suggested truck route signs be placed and some changes made temporarily, due to the extreme high cost of improvements for the proposed truck routes as made by the recent traffic survey.

Garrison proposed an ordinance to be drawn designating 24th street through from Clinton Road to New York as a truck route. The cost of fixing 28th street, he said, would be almost $40,000.

On the north side of town, Boonville from Brown to Cooper involves considerable right of way, Garrison said, and to replace this he suggested using Pettis from Pettis to Heard, and Park from Pettis to Main. Another recommended temporary truck route was St. Louis to Pettis on Mill and from Saline to Boonville to tie into Heard.

Roy Burkholder Is LP-Gas Assn. Head

Roy Burkholder, manager and owner of Burkholder's Appliance Co. in Sedalia, was elected vice-president of the Missouri LP-Gas Association on June 1 at the Association's 13th Annual Convention held in Kansas City at the President Hotel.

Burkholder, who served as treasurer of the Association during 1957-58, succeeds R. E. Rasmuson of Rolla Uregas Corp. He was elected by the Association's directors who had been chosen several weeks earlier by the group's membership.

Other officers, elected by the Association directors, include R. E. Rasmuson, president, and C. J. Creager, General Gas, Inc., Lebanon, treasurer. James H. Dowell of Webster Gas Co., Springfield, was re-elected assistant treasurer.

drawn to make these corrections, which he said he felt would be a saving to the city in money which the city does not have at this time to improve the proposed streets and gain the right-of-ways.

The motion was approved. Garrison requested permission to purchase 7,700 gallons of oil which is being used on the rock streets to settle the dust, the cost being 11 cents for the oil and six cents for spraying it. It was approved.

Councilman Paxton reported he had been requested by Councilman Garrison to have a street light placed at Emmett and Tower, also by Councilman Vogel for a street light at 28th and Massachusetts. The requests were approved.

He then reported a request of the Police Committee to purchase or obtain on a 90-day trial the Duncan Fine-o-meter boxes $17.50 each to be placed on parking meters for convenience of the over-time parkers. The violator receives a ticket with an envelope in which he can insert the quarter penalty and this can be deposited in the locked boxes. He also requested the purchase of 6,000 of the envelopes at $18.50 per thousand. Both requests were approved.

Councilman Safford had two requests for driveways. One was from Herman Hall for construction of a driveway behind the apartments in the 200 block on West Third, as an entrance to a parking area in back of the apartments for tenants in the apartments. The matter was referred to the city engineer to stipulate the width of the driveway.

The second request was from Earl "Potts" Evans for a driveway to the lot next to the W. A. Smith Motor Co., which formerly had the old Green Pastures building on it. The lot has been made into a 19-car parking area. The request for the drive, to be 20 feet wide, was approved.

Garrison stated the discussion on the width of the drive was to stimulate interest and to reach a uniform width for these driveways.

Councilman Hausam took the floor and remarked, "Before any loose rumors get going around, I want to explain that I had made a three-day trial proposition with a man to buy all pasteboard hauling to the city dump, old tires, and light metal, all of which the city would be glad to get rid of instead of trying to burn or bury it. He was to pay us for this, so much a ton and it rained and created such a mess that I talked with L. M. Weise, in charge of the city dump grounds and we decided to call the whole thing off. It would have made a small amount of money for the city had the man made his calls daily and regularly."

He then called attention to complaints about the storm sewer at Broadway and Sneed which needs to be cleaned, and the storm ditch north of Broadway. Hausam pointed out that Sanitation Officer Simon had investigated and sprayed the area, but there were still complaints.

Simon, Hausam explained reported the drain beneath the highway had to be cleaned with a drag line, and the work now going on on Broadway in the area has made it worse, that it would not be profitable to clean at the present time or until the highway work is completed.

Garrison remarked, "A lot of this my department has fallen heir to, but we don't have the employees to do it now. Somebody else will have to do it."

Mayor Silverman then said he was referring the matter to the city engineer, and he should survey the condition and make recommendations.

Hausam presented a petition for a Sewer Lateral No. 1 in District 138 which is between Washington and Ingram, and 26th and 27th, along with a petition for Lateral No. 3, from Ingram to Washington and 19th to 20th, in District 138.

Hausam then reported on a recent survey he had made of the disposal plants. The west and north plants have gas meters which have not been operating the past nine years, he said, while the meter on the south plant is functioning. He reported the Missouri Public

Harmony Baptists Plan Picnic, Meeting

The Harmony Association Baptist Training Union will have its annual picnic and business meeting on June 9, 7 p.m. at Liberty Park. Games and contests such as a sack race have been planned. There will be a barbershop singing contest among quartets from the various churches.

The members and guests of the Training Union of the 21 churches and three missions of Harmony Association are all welcome to attend.

Everyone is asked to bring a contributive basket. The drink will be furnished.

Service Co. could have them repaired at a cost of $200 each, and requested approval to have them repaired. He explained they were necessary in efficient operation of the plants. The request was approved.

His next request was to replace the recirculating pump in the south plant at a cost of $750. This was approved by the Council after Hausam explained it was money out of his proposed budget. He then requested to have the old pump repaired, to be held as a standby in an emergency, and this was also approved. His request to replace the impeller for the north plant at not more than $150 was also approved.

The south plant, he explained, was in need of an incubator and an ice box to be used in the laboratory tests at a cost of not more than $125, and this was approved.

It was explained by Hausam there are two hoppers on the garbage truck which needed replacing. Three bids had been received, one from Brown's Machine Shop at $125, one from Leo Green at $97.50 and one from Duff Motors at $95 each. The last bid was accepted as the low bid and the request for replacement was granted.

Hausam also reported the need of four tires for one of the trucks, explaining he would prefer to try recapped tires at a cost of $19.56 as bid by the Owens Tire Co., which was the low bid, with the other being from Arbo's at $25 per tire. He explained new tires would cost $70.59 each.

Garrison questioned the advisability of using recaps, as he reported they had not been satisfactory in the Street Department. Hausam said he had been in the tire business and that Schien trucks used them on the highways, as did his own trucks, and they were all right. He also reported the tires would not be run fast on the street project and felt they would be all right.

Hausam's request was approved. Councilman Hausam then reported that since he became chairman of the sanitary committee, he had wondered about the city incinerator plant in north Sedalia.

He said, "The fire bricks in one oven need replacing and the inside is burned out. People in the neighborhood are complaining about it. We could also save a salary expense of about $2,520 per year by disposing of it."

"I know," Hausam said, "there will be some opposition from trash haulers and politicians. We can bury the small animals."

Simon, Hausam explained reported the drain beneath the highway had to be cleaned with a drag line, and the work now going on on Broadway in the area has made it worse, that it would not be profitable to clean at the present time or until the highway work is completed.

Garrison remarked, "A lot of this my department has fallen heir to, but we don't have the employees to do it now. Somebody else will have to do it."

Asked about the large animals by Councilman Paxton, Hausam explained the large animals could be sent to the rendering plant.

"I realize," he said "we will have to do something about the dog pound. That can be located someplace else. But I think it would be a good idea to get rid of the plant. I'll make my recommendation later, but I know it will save a lot on salary and upkeep."

Councilman Paxton explained he had just received another request from Councilman Safford for five lights on Plaza Ave., in the Southwest Village Addition. The matter, Mayor Silverman reported, would be referred to the power company for a survey.

Under officers reports, it was brought out that police fines for May totaled $2,815.

Moose Ladies Hear Talk On Civil Defense

"If Disaster Should Strike" was the subject of a timely and informative talk given by Walter McMellen on Tuesday night as part of the Hospital Chapter program of the Women of the Moose.

"We in Sedalia are fortunate," the speaker said, "to have adequate hospital, fire and police protection for normal conditions, but should a major disaster strike us, knowing what to do and how to do it would be the difference between saving lives and suffering unnecessary casualties."

McMellen pointed out that being close to a strategic air base would, of course, pose a real danger in case of war, and Civilian Defense is a precaution geared to meet that type of emergency. However, tornadoes and floods are possibilities in this part of the country and panic is always present where people are confused and untrained to cope with the situation. Where the public is informed and organized, damage and loss of life can be alleviated to a great extent. Concluding his remarks, the speaker urged everyone to take precautions; acquaint themselves with rules to follow in case of an emergency.

"We hope," he said, "that there is never a repetition of the tornado that struck the Fair Grounds several years ago but imagine the toll had it occurred earlier in the evening." The best way to avoid panic and protect ourselves, he said, is to be prepared.

McMellen, a Red Cross first aid instructor, was introduced by Gladys Satterwhite, hospital chairman.

The senior regent, Karen Marcum, presided at the business meeting and directed the admission of two new members of the Defending Circle, Mrs. Helen Files and Mrs. Beryl Vaughan.

A slate of new officers to be elected at the first chapter meeting in June will be selected and presented at the next meeting.

Ruth Crow, Mooseheart chairman, sent seven pairs of pillow cases to Mooseheart as part of her project of the slips were donated by several chapter members.

The birthday and anniversary celebration this month will be held at the Catholic Community Center on Thursday night, May 29. A picnic lunch will be featured, furnished by the lodge.

Following the business meeting a social hour was held at which time members of the hospital committee served refreshments. Wooden shoes filled with tulips, Dutch dolls and tulip candles made a colorful table arrangement.

Sedalians Warned About Salesmen Of Securities

Sedalians are cautioned by Jess Brown, director of the business relations division of the Chamber of Commerce, to beware of high-pressure telephone salesmen offering securities.

Citing a warning issued by the National Better Business Bureau with which the Chamber is affiliated, Brown stated that many inexperienced investors are receiving high-pressure telephone calls from self-styled brokerage firms in New York and Canada urging the purchase of shares in obscure or highly speculative companies. Because of this increased activity, the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission has warned investors to protect themselves by observing the following rules:

Before buying — think. Don't deal with strange securities firms, but consult your broker. Beware of promises of spectacular profits. Be sure you understand the risks of loss. Don't buy on tips and rumors, get all the facts. Tell the salesman to put all the information and advice in writing and mail it to you, then save it. If you don't understand all the written information, consult a person who does. Give at least as much consideration to buying securities as you would the purchase of any valuable property.

"In summary," Brown advises, "before you invest—investigate."

Problems Call For Action . . .

Viewed in one light, a national administration is an agency chosen by the American people to deal with their accumulated problems.

They measure its success, and its continuing acceptability by checking how well a president meets these problems and either solves or avoids new ones that pop up during his tenure.

The long Democratic sway ended in large part because the Truman regime was piling up problems it could not seem to solve, like the Korean war, Communists in government, scandals in government, inflation, heavy federal spending.

Some of these matters it sought to minimize, and therein lies particular danger for any administration.

The Eisenhower administration breezed thru its first term, riding a crest of prosperity most of the time, solving some of the big problems like the war.

Second time 'round its fortunes have not run so high. The Russians leaped ahead of us into space, disclosing grave lacks in our progress of science and education and in key defense fields.

A recession, toughest since World War II, pinched the nation's economy.

Lately troubles have been boiling up for us in strategic regions abroad, including France, the Middle East, Latin America.

Most Americans have too much good sense to imagine that any administration necessarily must bear direct responsibility for everything that happens during its time in office.

Nevertheless, they expect action of some sort when problems start to accumulate. Whatever the original source of a difficulty, in this day and age they look to government to do its part to find a remedy.

Possibly they don't rely on themselves as much as they should in all instances. But their leaning on Washington is a fact of political life in 1958 which politicians cannot easily ignore.

The Eisenhower administration is suggesting at this time that the recession is in the nature of a normal adjustment and that the flare-ups abroad are the normal ups and downs we must expect in foreign affairs.

To hold this position in the teeth of today's storms requires nerve. It also involves tremendous risk that the voters will decide that what is offered as calm confidence is really indifferent reaction, and that somebody else must be brought in to cut down the pile of problems.

Ike Will Invite De Gaulle to Washington

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—One of the first moves President Eisenhower will make toward the new government of General De Gaulle is to invite him to Washington, once the French crisis has calmed.

Behind this will be the motive of warming De Gaulle up to the U.S.A. and selling him on the continuation of NATO. More important is the worry that the French army, under De Gaulle, will begin waving the big stick at Germany, undo all the good will built up between France and Germany during the last 10 years.

Smarter under the sting of past defeats, the French military are determined to restore their might. And having helped knife the European defense community of a European army under the same command and wearing the same uniform, they will doubtless continue to thumb their nose at French-German cooperation.

For this reason, the State Department has advised Eisenhower to invite both De Gaulle and Chancellor Adenauer to Washington. Whether De Gaulle will come under those circumstances remains to be seen. He may demand that Eisenhower and Adenauer come to Paris.

De Gaulle's Luck

The wheel of fate has a peculiar way of spinning. Sometimes its finger, turning through the years, ignores a man completely, only to come back and anoint him a hero.

It was 15 years ago in North Africa that Charles De Gaulle, an honest, mediocre, military man, who was all the British could find to carry on resistance against the Germans, confided to President Roosevelt that he was to be the Joan of Arc of France. They met at Casablanca. Roosevelt found De Gaulle proud, stubborn, unyielding. Roosevelt came back to Washington to ridicule De Gaulle privately in his meetings with Congressmen.

Time passed. The free French moved back to France—benefit of the American army. De Gaulle enjoyed a brief period of power, then retired to his village 150 miles from Paris. He remained there until, he said, France chose to call him back. The conditions of recall would be a new constitution giving him continuity of government, without the constant frustration of continuing cabinet crises.

The wheel spun. Last week De Gaulle was called back by President Coty. Again he was stubborn, unyielding, refused to negotiate with French political leaders. But he had the army on his side—an army which the politicians had appeased. Unlike Harry Truman, who fired General MacArthur when MacArthur challenged Truman's authority in the Far East, French civilian leaders had bowed. Time after time they bowed to the military.

So, 15 years after De Gaulle described himself as another Joan of Arc, the crowds on the boulevards were parading, shouting, hailing

Guest Editorial

NEW YORK TIMES: Why? These are fine days for asking questions, whether we get answers or not. Questions about dandelions, for instance. Why is a dandelion? There is no answer, really. A dandelion just is, persistent, determined, ubiquitous. Livestock won't eat dandelions. Few insects trouble them. Birds don't consume them. One would think we could get along very well without dandelions. Instead, we have more and more and more of them. Why?

Why aren't there more strawberries? There used to be. Anyone who ever spent a childhood Summer in the country remembers how many wild strawberries there were, and how sweet their taste. Now one has to hunt for them. Daisies and buttercups grow in every meadow, and so does hawkweed, but there are only a few wild strawberries, why?

Why aren't bluebirds really blue? They are white tinged with lilac or pale violet, and sometimes not even tinged. They are beautiful in an old pasture, but they aren't blue. And why doesn't plantain have a flower worth looking at? Botanically, of course, they don't need colorful flowers because they need no outside help with fertilization. But dandelions don't need outside help either, and look at the color they manage to display.

Why are flowers colorful at all? Insects are color-blind. Man isn't, and for that we are thankful. But most flowers depend on the insects for pollination, and the petals are supposed to help the insects in this mission. Why are violets purple, and why is mustard yellow, and why are apple blossoms pink and white? No one objects — far from it! — but why?

Unemployment Pay Extension Confused

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's plan for extending unemployment pay—his most eye-catching anti-recession move—was born in confusion and is still confused, thanks to help from the Democratic-run Congress which approved it.

He was expected to sign it into law today. Originally, it was supposed to apply to all 48 states. In its finished form probably no more than six states, those heaviest hit by unemployment, will make use of it.

It's possible this new law will prove to be so thoroughly fouled up that Congress—although it doesn't have much time left this year—will want to junk it and do something both clearer and more beneficial.

Before looking at the confusion, this is the background:

Each state has its own way of handling unemployment pay, deciding how much a jobless man can draw and for how many weeks. So the payments vary from state to state and the weeks of pay range from 16 to 31. In most states the maximum is 26 weeks.

States tax employers to provide money for unemployment pay in their individual states. The money in all these state funds now totals around eight billion dollars. So the states could increase the amount of unemployment pay and extend the number of weeks.

They could, if they wanted to. But none were doing it during this recession, although many thousands of jobless people were using up all the pay and weeks allowed them.

Eisenhower decided to stick a needle in the states by proposing that the federal government provide money to all states to extend unemployment pay to those jobless workers who had exhausted all the weeks due them.

He called some governors to the White House for a conference on his idea. They came away uncertain about what he had in mind, some thinking he intended the federal money to be a grant, or gift, and not a loan.

They told newsmen they thought their states could accept a grant without trouble. But before they could accept a loan, they said, they thought their state legislatures might have to be called into session to approve.

What Eisenhower had in mind, as it turned out, was a loan, not a grant, with the loan to be paid back after four years. Repayment could come either from available funds or from a higher tax on employers.

He proposed: Congress should vote about 600 million dollars so states could extend by 50 per cent their maximum number of weeks of payment to jobless workers who had used up their rights. For example: A state with a present 26-week maximum could keep on paying a jobless man for another 13 weeks.

This didn't sit too well with some states, since they had enough money in their funds to extend the number of weeks without getting a loan from Uncle Sam. Besides, the thought of eventually boosting the tax on employers to pay back an unneeded loan wasn't too pleasant. One inducement for attracting new industries to a state is a low unemployment pay tax rate.

Some Democrats and Republicans thought the help to the states should be a grant and not a loan. Some wanted permanent legislation by Congress to increase the maximum number of weeks of unemployment pay, and make them uniform.

Out of this mish-mash of ideas

Ruth Millett Says

Make Baby-Sitting Job A Pleasure for Grandma

Here are a few rules designed to make your mother or mother-in-law happy to sit with your children occasionally.

Every one of them has been suggested by letters from grandmothers who say they resent baby-sitting with their grandchildren because of the lack of consideration on the part of the parents.

Remember to: Pick her up and take her home at the end of the evening. Don't expect her to drive her own car alone at night.

If you are going out for dinner and expect her to eat with the children, have a good meal prepared and ready to go on the table. Don't leave her to cook the meal or eat leftovers.

Invite her to your home as a guest more often than you ask her to baby-sit while you are out.

Don't insult her with a long list of instructions about what to do and not to do. If she managed to rear a family of her own, she can come the final bill approved by Congress. It included the original Eisenhower proposal—a loan and a 50 per cent extension in weeks—plus a gimmick added by Congress.

This, instead of forcing states to accept a loan, would leave it up to them to decide whether they wanted it. Since most states have enough money in their funds without going into debt to the government, most are not expected to accept.

And those who do accept may have to call special sessions of their legislatures or perhaps even amend their constitutions.

So what looked impressive, if confused, starting out, now looks not only confused but a fizzle.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

When people come to their end of life we have them buried in a cemetery with "perpetual care" or with what appears to be reasonable attention. Regardless of how little we have honored the living we seem to be awed by death.

On last Memorial Day we checked the graves of those who have left this life before us. We cleaned up the family plot and placed flowers or wreaths or shrubs on the graves of others. Momentarily we dug into our memories about the lives of our departed loved ones. We shed a few tears out of loneliness or because we felt sorry for ourselves. We knew we had lost something in the way of service or love or attention.

Now, back in the workaday world, it would be well to dedicate something worthwhile to the memories of the deceased. We should dedicate a part of our lives to serving others. Our departed friends left much undone which made death very important to them. We could all create living memorials of service and love instead of buying material memorials which will decay as all material things do.

Look after your children for an evening without a lot of advice and rules. Encourage your children to love and mind their grandmother, so that taking care of them is a pleasure to her.

Take time when you return home to tell her about your evening, instead of rushing her out of the house so that you can fall in bed. Show your appreciation by more than routine thanks. Letting her know how much it means to you to be able to go out without having a worry on your mind will make her feel that she is contributing to your happiness.

Even though she is generous enough to offer, never let her give up plans of her own to take over your responsibilities. Manage, somehow, to repay her for baby-sitting by helping her out in other ways.

Personal Loans Increasing; Home Improvements Factor

By FAYE HENLE

Here is something bound to be called to your attention. The demand for personal loans is increasing.

By a personal loan we mean sums of money borrowed for a wide range of purposes, for improvements to your home, money needed to pay off a sticky pile of bills too long deferred, insurance premiums, taxes.

Perhaps it is money borrowed to use on a vacation—or to play the horses!

It is not installment credit, money borrowed when you buy from an automobile or appliance dealer, even department store time payments.

Now that we understand what we are talking about what conclusions can we draw from the fact that personal loans are rising?

Talk with bankers and you will be amazed. They insist the recession is hardly responsible — although at least one well known economist has cited this as a prime factor.

For one thing, say the bankers, while personal loans are on the increase, the demand for such credit in recent months has actually been leveling off compared with a year ago. More important, they point out they would not be likely to lend money to someone unless they were pretty sure of repayment.

They ask collateral on such loans. Collateral means evidence that if the borrower fails to repay, the bank can collect because of something the borrower owns, something tangible like savings, securities, a house.

Many people actually offer their savings account books as collateral.

Why then don't these people withdraw the savings money instead and spend it?

America, more and more, is geared to living on credit. Many of us demand the security of savings plus the enjoyment of goods and services. Many of us have little fear today of our ability to repay loans. (Others of us are making repayments currently at a faster pace so that our financial affairs might be in tip-top shape should the economic tides get stormier.)

Many people actually borrow money in order to force themselves to save.

Are the reasons offered for making a personal loan very different today than they were last year or in 1956?

Thus far, the bankers tell us: it is hard to spot a conclusive trend. Yet, these factors loom.

In areas blighted by unemployment more people are offering consolidation of debt as their reason for seeking a loan and more people are refinancing existing loans. This means they are seeking longer periods before repayment is due so that each payable installment might be smaller.

Everywhere that we have checked there is a greater than seasonal demand for money to be used for home improvement, repairs and furnishings. People are borrowing to build patios and swimming pools in this recession year.

Almost without exception loans for automobile purchases have been running at lower levels than a year ago.

One banker cited a decline in loans for consolidation of debt or "personal needs" and a pickup in loans to meet tuition bills, tax payments and medical obligations.

Litterbugs Clean Up Utah Highway Area

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Highway Patrolman Arthur Spendlove decided against issuing a ticket when he saw a beer can sail from the window of a passing car.

Instead, he ordered the four adults inside to clear refuse from a two-mile section of the highway. He said they drove off with their floorboards covered with bottles and cans.

The litterbugs were lucky at that: Utah's antilittering law classifies the offense as a misdemeanor subject to a fine up to $299.

De Gaulle To Bolster Shaky French Franc

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—One of Gen. De Gaulle's first tasks will be to try to bolster the shaky franc.

French officials say that in international payments to settle foreign trade France is near bankruptcy. Its participation in the European common market with five other nations is at stake.

At home the franc's problem is that old familiar one—the rising cost of living which steadily erodes the franc's value.

In a study of what's happened in the last 10 years to the buying power of the currency of 24 countries, economists of the First National City Bank of New York measure the depreciation of money by the rise in the official cost of living or consumer price index. The rates of depreciation vary widely year by year but the economists have compounded them and averaged them out to give an annual rate.

Taking the French franc's market value at an arbitrary 100 in 1947, they find that by the end of 1957 it was worth 56, or a decline of 62 per cent a year.

By comparison the U.S. dollar, if valued at 100 in 1947, had dropped to 80, for an annual decline of 2.2 per cent.

Switzerland has the best record. But even its currency's value went down by 1.2 per cent a year and now stands at 89 on the bank's index. Next best were Germany and Venezuela, each with an annual decline of 1.5 per cent. The United States is fourth.

France's problem, if less drastic over the years, is real enough right now. At home De Gaulle's problem will be to try to curb further wage and price rises. Abroad it will be to seek some way out of the international payments crisis.

American businessmen note that this may very well stymie the European common market, supposed to get under way at the end of the year.

France, West Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg are scheduled to start a slow move toward removal of all trade and travel barriers between themselves. With France currently unable to meet its financial obligations in foreign trade, the whole scheme could be delayed.

RED ROCKET PATROL—According to information received by Western sources in Vienna, the Soviet Union has established a line of rocket launching sites from the Baltic to the Black Sea. The report said the rocket bases have existed in Eastern Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria (see Newsmag) for at least six months. Five of the 12 bases are located in Czechoslovakia. An armament center is under construction in the Slovak village of Sniny, which is to produce the most modern and advanced weapons. Soviet officers have also been reported training Hungarian soldiers in atomic warfare.

Earth Rated Lowly Mudball Circling a Third Rate Sun

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The stars will never look the same to us again.

In troubled times in the past a man has always been able to walk out into the night, turn his face skyward to the stars and tell himself, "Up there is quiet, peace, serenity." Somehow, in his own loneliness, the lonely sky has always comforted him.

But never again—never, never, never!

Dr. Harlow Shapley, retired director of the Harvard College Observatory, has destroyed forever our cherished myth that the sky was either lonely or serene.

Lonely? Why it turns out that the heaven is more crowded than a ball park during a free Sunday double header.

Dr. Shapley, who rates the earth as a lowly mudball circling around a third rate star—our sun—estimates there may be 100 quintillion stars in the known universe.

But, hold on. There's worse to come. Man has long speculated there may be forms of life on one or two of our neighboring planets.

This is a piker's view to Dr. Shapley. He figures that if even only one out of every trillion stars in the universe has conditions roughly similar to those of our sun, then there may be 100 million planetary systems with life on them.

We don't know how this possibility affects you, but we do know how it has affected us. Ever since reading Dr. Shapley's estimate we have been dreaming, not of seeing flying saucers, but whole flying pantries.

The heavens may house vaster griefs than any we have known—but may get to know later.

A hundred million different planets may have different kinds of life in a hundred million different stages.

Some may have people much as ourselves, occupying themselves as they whirl through space with such diversions as children, mortgages, bingo and wars.

Some may have people even more advanced than ourselves.

people who have lost the art of locomotion altogether, but developed two heads so they can think through their problems better.

Personally when we go out alone at night now here's what we do. We close our eyes, turn up our face, cup our hands to our mouth and holler, "Halloo, up there! Halloo!"

So far, we are glad to report, we have had no answer.

But we have lost our old fine feeling of fellowship for the stars. They have become strangers forever.

Pay Squabble Covered Up By the Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tiger incentive pay squabble moved quickly into the hush-hush stage today but Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick promised to investigate the situation.

It appeared unlikely Frick will uncover anything though since Detroit Gen. Mgr. John McHale and the Tiger players involved say they have made no side deals that would mean more pay for top performances.

Only Monday two of the Tiger outfielders, youngster Al Kaline and veteran Charlie Maxwell, said they had such agreements with McHale. Both explained them fully.

Maxwell had told a newsman in Florida during spring training that he would realize an extra $2,000 if he hit 25 home runs or batted in 100 runs, and if the Tigers finished second or better.

Kaline said he missed out on a $3,000 bonus because his batting average was not up to the .300 mark by June 1. He was hitting some 40 points below that mark at the deadline.

Incentive pay deals whether written or verbal are in violation of baseball rules. The commissioner said he found nothing written in the Kaline and Maxwell contracts but added he would look further into the possibility of gentlemen's agreements.

Reliable sources said four or five of the Tiger players had incentive pay deals with the general manager.

McHale headily denied there were any kind of side deals with any players. Later in the day, the 23-year-old Kaline denied he had a bonus arrangement. He agreed with McHale that it all was an apparent misunderstanding.

J. Harshman Has Reason For Disgust

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Jack Harshman, Baltimore's big left-hander, is the only pitcher in the American League with six consecutive complete games at the moment—yet he has lost four in a row, half of 'em because of unearned runs.

You'd think he'd break curfew, or push an ump or something.

The crosseted southpaw (he has a bad back) who won his first five decisions, was knocked off again last night at Washington when the Senators scored an unearned run in the 10th for a 2-1 decision. That dropped Harshman's record to 5-4 and plunked the Orioles back into the cellar while the Senators tied idle Detroit for sixth.

A southpaw with a streak also figured in the only other American League game scheduled last night, with Whitey Ford tying an AL record with six consecutive strikeouts while winning his fifth straight and his first shutout in two years as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-0.

It was the third straight success for the Yanks, upping their lead to seven games over Kansas City, while dumping the Sox to fourth and extending their scoreless inning string to 22.

Cincinnati whipped Pittsburgh 8-2 in the only National League game scheduled.

Harshman has allowed only 13 earned runs in his four defeats, but the Orioles have scored only seven.

Roy Sievers, cracking Goose Goslin's all-time Washington home run record of 127, tagged Harshman for his eighth homer of the season in the fourth.

Harshman gave up seven hits and walked three while striking out 11—matching New York's Bob Turley for the AL strikeout lead with 3.

Three home runs, two by Hank Bauer and the other by Mickey Mantle, gave Ford all the edge he needed while winning his fourth in a row from the White Sox since last July. Whitey gave up seven hits, walked four and struck out 10 for a 6-2 record with his first shutout since May 28, 1956.

Ford's six consecutive strikeouts matched the AL record set in 1913 by Buck O'Brien of Boston. The record had been matched six times since, with Ford the last to do it previously—against Kansas City, July 20, 1956.

The modern major league record is eight, by Max Surkont of the Milwaukee Braves against Cincinnati, May 25, 1953.

Martinez, Akins Fit For Title Bout Friday

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Welterweight boxers Vince Martinez and Virgil Akins selected trunks and gloves yesterday after being pronounced physically fit for their title fight here Friday.

Akins will wear white trunks with black stripes and Martinez will be in black trunks with white stripes.

The fighters will both wear six ounce gloves.

After the gloves were selected they were sealed in a box and given to Missouri Athletic Commissioner Charles W. Plan.

Martinez did not box yesterday. He limited his drills to road work in the morning.

Akins went through a fast nine round drill before the preliminary physical exam.

Both are to have boxing drills this afternoon.

Whitey Ford Matches Pitching Record Twice

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League pitching record of six consecutive strikeouts has been tied seven times, but southpaw Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees is the only one to do it twice.

Whitey made it again Monday night, fanning Sherm Lollar (to end the third inning), Walp Dropp, Bubba Phillips, Tito Francona, Jim Landis and Jim Wilson in a 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. He previously had matched the record, set in 1913 by Buck O'Brien of Boston, on July 20, 1956, against Kansas City.

Luis Aparicio grounded out to end the string Monday night. The modern major league record is eight, by Max Surkont of the Milwaukee Braves against Cincinnati, May 25, 1953.

Tom Blair III Qualifies For National Open

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Jim Tom Blair III, son of Missouri's governor, shot two sub-par rounds to lead regional qualifying at Blue Hills Country Club for the National Open Golf Tournament.

Young Blair's 72-69—141 over the par 73 course was the best of 70 scores and entitled him to one of four National Open berths awarded in this region.

Blair, a St. Louis amateur, is the son of Gov. James T. Blair. These professionals won the other berths:

Stan Thirsk, Mission, Kan., pro, 73-72—145.

Chuck DuPree, Meadowbrook Country Club, Johnson County, Kan., 70-75—145.

Joe Jimenez, Manhattan, Kan., Country Club, 72-74—146.

Bill Webb of Kansas City, a young tournament professional, matched par twice to equal Jimenez's total, but the veteran Manhattan swinger fired three straight birdies in a sudden death playoff. Webb will be first alternate.

Others are:
Bill Matthews, Mission, Kan., 73-70—148; Kenneth Grass, Wichita, Kan., 73-75—148; and Walter Cash, Springfield, Mo. All are professionals.

Besides the 26-year-old Blair, the only other amateur to match par was Don Smith of Kansas City, who tied with Jimenez and Webb at 146 but declined to take part in the playoff.

Jimenez had birdie fours with putts of six and 13 feet on the first two extra holes to tie Webb and then followed with an 18-footer for a birdie three on the third hole. However, he didn't need the third birdie as Webb took a bogey five.

Annual Meet Of Champions

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A galaxy of track stars featuring Glenn Davis, the world record equaler in the 440-yard dash, and the Bobby Morrow-powered sprint combinations of Abilene Christian College will line up Saturday in the annual Meet of Champions.

Athletes from six major conferences and 28 states are entered in the meet, sponsored by the University of Houston.

The Abilene Christian 440-yard relay team that bettered the world's record with 39.7 at the California Relays Saturday faces strong opposition from the University of Houston, which will bring three brilliant freshmen up to the varsity and run as the Houston Track and Field Club.

Morrow did 9.4 at Modesto in returning to the form that made him 1956 sprint champion of the Olympic Games. He is entered in both the 10 and 220.

Stan Levinson, Houston freshman who has done 20.5, will contest Morrow in the 220, while in the 100 the Abilene Christian star will get competition from Dee Givens of Oklahoma, Illinois' Bob Mitchell, the Big Ten sprint king, and Morrow's teammate Bill Woodhouse, who has beaten him twice this season.

Each of the 17 events is crowded with champions, including Oklahoma's brilliant miler Gail Hodgson of South Africa, Southern Methodist's high jumper Don Stewart, who has leaped 6-10½, and distance ace Jerry Smart of Houston.

KAY NOBEL

Women's Tag Title Is At Stake Tonite

An added interest has come about in tonight's wrestling matches at the armory due to pretty Kay Noble's defeating of Lorraine Johnson last week in St. Joseph for the Central States Women's wrestling championship. Clever Miss Noble was able to wrest the women's championship from the blonde Tigress in a two out of three fall match that had mat fans on their feet during the complete contest. Tonight Kay teams up with Kathy Starr in an attempt to win the women's tag team title from Lorraine Johnson and Penny Banner, present champions. In the two out of three fall women's championship match, the odds have turned in favor of the Noble-Starr combination, due to Noble's recent defeat of Lorraine Johnson.

Another title match will share the spotlight with the tag bout, when Central States men's Champion, Otto von Krupp, tangles with Sonny Myers over the two out of three fall, one hour time limit route. In past matches, Myers has been able to hold his own against the burly German, and von Krupp has a deadly fear of the punishing sleeper hold that Sonny executes so viciously. There has been bad blood between these two and tonight with the championship at stake, things could come to the boiling point. Myers has held many individual state titles, but has never been able to win the Central States Championship.

Sensational Flying Joe Scarpa will mix it with clever Thor Hagen in the special event, for one fall or a 30 minute time limit. Both men are of the classic school of wrestling and their efforts should please the mat fans who appreciate Olympic rules. The odds are even and the match could go either way, depending upon who gets the breaks.

Opening the action for the night will be a single girl's bout with Central States Champion Kay Noble in a non-title match against Penny Banner. A lot of heated action can be expected in this one. Doors at the Armory open at 7:15 p. m. and matches start at 8:30 p. m.

Jay Fullmer Makes TV Debut Wednesday
WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — Jay Fullmer makes his television debut here Wednesday night against Joe Miceli of New York in a 10-round welterweight bout.

The fight will be staged outdoors in the West Jordan Stadium (ABC-TV, 9 p. m. EST).

Jay, younger brother of former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, has had only 13 pro fights and only one 10-round bout.

But the 21-year-old copper worker hopes for a successful hometown debut against big time competition.

Miceli, a one-time ranked welterweight, has a 56-51-7 record. He beat Karl Heinz-Guder in his last fight in Hollywood March 8.

Los Angeles Citizens Vote On Ball Park

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The folks in Los Angeles went to the polls today to decide whether the City Council made a fair deal with Dodger owner Walter O'Malley. If yes, things look good for O'Malley in his pursuit of a legitimate ball yard in the Chavez Ravine. If no, then the Dodgers don't have land for a park and National League President Warren Giles has to decide whether to go through with his threat to hoist the Dodgers out of Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, back at the pennant race, the Dodgers were far back Ten games, to be exact, but they got a big boost in morale—and ballot box hopes—when some 7,500 fans showed up to welcome them back from an 8-9 swing through the East.

Tonight in Los Angeles, the Cincinnati Redlegs make their first appearance in the Coliseum. At San Francisco, the first place Giants put their one-game lead on the line in the first West Coast appearance of the season by the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

Only one game was scheduled in the NL yesterday, and the Redlegs took it 8-2 from Pittsburgh.

In the American League, the New York Yankees took a seven-game lead on Whitey Ford's 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox, and Washington beat Baltimore 2-1 in 10 innings in the only games scheduled.

Joe Nuxhall was practically the whole show for the Redlegs as they slipped past the Chicago Cubs into fourth place. The 29-year-old lefty blanked the Pirates on four hits until the ninth, struck out eight, walked none and drove in two runs, scored two with three hits and a fly ball.

Don Hoak homered, Johnny Temple tripled and Steve Bilko and Nuxhall doubled in the Redlegs' 10-hit attack against starter R. G. Smith and a pair of relievers. Nuxhall, now 2-2, lost his shutout bid with two out in the ninth when Frank Thomas swatted his second double, scoring Bob Skinner and Ted Kluszewski, who had singled. Smith is 0-2.

It's Brooks Lawrence (1-3) for the Redlegs against the Dodgers' young lefty, Sandy Koufax (2-1) tonight at Los Angeles, while the Giants have picked Ruben Gomez (3-3) to break Lew Burdette's jinx. The Milwaukee right-hander (4-3) has won eight in row from the Giants since Oct. 16, 1954.

In the other NL games, it's Pittsburgh at St. Louis tonight with Vern Law (5-3) facing Larry Jackson (3-2), and Philadelphia at Chicago in a day game, Curt Simmons (4-5) vs. Taylor Phillips (3-0).

MU Ace Pitcher Ruled Ineligible for Start

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Ace pitcher Ernie Nevers, slated to start for the University of Missouri in an NCAA district playoff game Friday, has been ruled ineligible.

The NCAA said Monday that Nevers, winner of five games for Coach John Simmons' Tigers this season, was ineligible because of two innings of pitching in 1953 before he was drafted.

He played for Missouri in 1956 and '57 and part of the 1958 season, in addition to the short stint in 1953. He had been made eligible as a special hardship case by the Big Eight Conference.

Aparicio Can't Steal Against Yogi Berra

NEW YORK (AP)—It looks like Yogi Berra is the only catcher Luis Aparicio, the Chicago White Sox' speedy shortstop, can't steal against.

Aparicio had pulled off 26 steals on 26 tries until the New York Yankee backstop nailed him in the third inning of Monday night's 3-0 victory over the White Sox. It was the first time Aparicio had been caught since last July 25—when Yogi pegged him out.

Oriole Pitcher Gets Six Days Without Pay

BALTIMORE (AP) — Temperamental Billy Loes, Baltimore Orioles pitcher, has six days—without pay—to cool off from his display of temper in Sunday's game with Washington.

Oriole Manager Paul Richards fined Loes $100 and suspended him three days Monday. American League President Will Harbridge issued a $100 fine and three-day suspension of his own.

Giants Face Milwaukee On the Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's run-happy Giants, home from a long, successful journey, welcome challenging Milwaukee to the West Coast tonight in a battle for the National League's top spot.

The Braves' three game series, first of a 13-game Giant home stand, couldn't have come at a better time.

The Giants, strong in hitting but weak in the throwing department, have a skinny .12 percentage point lead over the world champs. Ruben Gomez, fiery Puerto Rican right-hander with a 5-3 record, will try to increase it. Lew Burdette, thrice a World Series winner and now 4-3, attempts to stop him.

Manager Bill Rigney said today some changes in his second line pitching probably would be made before the Giants depart again on June 17.

"I'm satisfied with the front line pitching—Gomez, Johnny Antonelli, Ramon Monzon and Mike McCormick," Rigney said. "But it's a damn crime to get as many as nine runs and then get beat."

He noted his team blew a seven-run lead Saturday in losing to the Cardinals 10-9 in 12 innings. Giant pitchers gave up 25 runs in three losing efforts to St. Louis. However, the Giants still came home with a 13-3 record.

Manager Fred Haney said he would wait until just before game time to decide whether to play Schoendienst or Covington. He doubted Torre would be available.

The Giants have their ailments, too. Rigney said Willie Mays, currently batting .407, has fully recovered from a pulled muscle but rookie third baseman Jim Davenport still is bothered by a rib injury that benched him for five games.

Rigney's 40-year-old reliever, Marv Grissom, wrenched his back and Rigney said he's throwing again "but just doesn't feel 100 percent." Orlando Cepeda, the Giants prize rookie first baseman, was slowed with a leg injury but his manager said he looked fully recovered.

Four Youngsters Will Bear Watching in US Open Golf

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The U. S. Open Golf Championship is no kiddie car tournament, but four youngsters who bear watching will tee off with some of the deadliest sharpshooters in the game when the event opens at Tulsa June 12.

None of the four has much of a chance of winning this year. All lack tournament experience. But in years to come they could become the new Sam Sneads and Ben Hogans.

Here they are:
Jack Nicklaus, an 18-year-old freshman at Ohio State, led the qualifiers at Cincinnati by firing a 66-70—136 over two courses yesterday.

Deane Beman, a 20-year-old swinger from Bethesda, Md., fired a 75-71—146 to tie John O'Donnell for the top spot among the Baltimore qualifiers. A sophomore at the University of Maryland, he already has played in two Opens and last year's National Amateur. Gene Francis, also 20, had a 73-69—142 a deadlock professional

Sedalia Chiefs Meet Strong Holden Team

The Sedalia Chiefs will attempt to retain their first place spot in the Western Division of the Ban Johnson League when they take on a strong Holden team at Holden Tuesday night.

Chiefs manager Billy Arnold rates the Holden team as the strongest of four newcomers to the league. Holden enters the game with two wins, while the Sedalians have won one. Neither team has tasted defeat.

Probable starters are Merle Fink for Holden and Clyde Kubli for Sedalia. This promises to be a pitching duel as both men, combined with catcher Larry Mines to form the top battery for the Warrensburg Mules during the past season.

Sedalia players will meet at the Ralph Hamlin service station at 5:45 p. m. to depart for Holden.

NEW YORK (AP) — The day of the all-embracing welfare state may be closer than you think. Even the comedians have thrown themselves on the public dole, begging for a crumb of humor from their fellow man.

"A recession has hit the joke industry," mourns Henny Youngman, a capitalist among comedians who uses assembly line methods to turn out more than 500 gags in a 40-minute night club stint. "This is no laughing matter."

"Guys are out walking the streets looking for jokes. I haven't heard a good one in over a month. Nothing seems to be funny anymore. Why today you can't even kid mother-in-laws. All of them seem 20 years younger, 30 pounds lighter, have the Ivy League look and sit out there in the night clubs waiting to heckle you."

Before the government steps in and appoints a secretary of chorles, chuckles and yokes, with cabinet rank and vast emergency powers to marshal all jokes, Henny believes the day can be saved by combining private enterprise with spirited public charity.

"Somewhere out in the vast heartland of this country," he intones, with a missionary zeal lighting up his laugh-hungry eyes, "good jokes are lurking, just waiting to be told. The job is to find them."

"Look at all the publicity Texas got from the endless stream of Texan jokes. Remember the rich Texan who gave his son a chemistry set for Christmas?—DuPont. And the Texan who went to the dentist and was told he had no cavities? 'Drill anyway doc,' he urged. 'I feel lucky today.'

"Well, maybe other states would enjoy being laughed at for a change. I can't remember when I heard a good Oregon joke. And what about New Mexico and Montana? Must be something funny going on there or they wouldn't keep it so quiet."

To tap the huge natural resource of humor that lies buried somewhere in the hinterland, Henny proposes a national chain letter of jokes. The idea is for each correspondent to come up with one new joke and send it by mail to 10 other people, preferably in different parts of the country. They in turn would come up with a new joke each and send it to 10 other people.

Aims Bill At Power Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Working against time, the Senate Labor subcommittee starts drafting today a bill aimed at corruption and abuse of power in labor unions.
What it will contain remained a question as senators sought to reconcile conflicting news on a variety of proposals in advance of the June 10 deadline they set for themselves.

Chairman John F. Kennedy
(D-Mass.) refused to disclose in advance the terms of a suggested compromise worked out by the subcommittee staff as a starting point.

The drive for an effective labor reform bill is a sequel to hearings by the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan
(D-Ark.), of which Kennedy is a member.

The June 10 deadline was pledged when Republican senators led by Sen. William F. Knowland (Calif.), Senate GOP leader, waged an unsuccessful fight to write some far-reaching anticorruption provisions into a bill proposing new safeguards for union welfare and pension funds. The Senate passed this bill April 28 after beating down the Republican amendments.

Bank Robber Gets a Break From Judge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new world of opportunity is dawning for a former taxi driver. It all started when he robbed a bank.

Kenneth St. Onge said he was jobless at the time, and his kids were hungry.

He got $540 in the robbery last March 31, a crime for which he could have been sentenced to 20 years in jail.

But when St. Onge, 35, showed up in court yesterday with his wife and sons, Edward, 9; Gary, 6; Van, 7; Guy, 5; Kim, 4; Cal, 3; and Harvey, 18 months, the judge placed him on probation for five years.

In refusing to send St. Onge to jail, Judge Thurmond Clarke was motivated by the same feelings of sympathy that have caused hundreds to rally to the bank robber's support. For there is a story behind his brief foray into crime.

St. Onge, a stocky, serious young blue eyes, told it yesterday outside the courtroom.

"It was hard to find a place to live in Detroit with all the kids," said St. Onge, who had lived there all his life. "I got disgusted and said to my wife, 'Come on, let's go to California!'"

That was last September and things turned out even worse when they arrived in Los Angeles. "For three weeks we slept in our car — a 1947 Studebaker — and ate in a park. Then my wife got a job as a waitress and we moved into a Quonset hut for $25 a week plus utilities. The bill for electricity at the end of two months was $67, and I found out the landlord had another apartment, a trailer and a garage wired on to our place."

"I took care of the kids. Four of them were in school. They all went at different times and took turns wearing one good pair of shoes a neighbor had given us. I spent all day taking them to school and bringing them home and at 4:30 I'd pick up my wife and what she'd made in tips we'd spend on food for dinner."

"I never had any time to look for a job except close by, and I couldn't find anything."

"Then my wife lost her job because she was pregnant and her legs got so she couldn't stand on them. All our money was gone and that night when we put the kids to bed they were crying because they were hungry and I had to do something."

What St. Onge did was go into a downtown bank, threaten the cashier with a toy pistol, and walk out with the money. He was captured moments later and his story, in newspapers and on television, produced a flood of offers to help.

The family got a house in nearby La Puente without any down payment. Furniture and clothing was given to them — and $1,000 in cash came in hundreds of letters. From among dozens of offers of jobs St. Onge got one as a laundry truck driver.

He and his wife Esther were both damp eyed as they led their children from the courtroom yesterday.

"This is the best break I ever had," said St. Onge.

Michigan Town Has Routine Election Day

HARRIETTA, Mich. (AP) — It was the same old election day story in this tiny Wexford County community (pop. 160). Voters just like the Citizens party.

Going to the polls for the first time in three years under a state mandate to do so, voters elected a complete Citizens party slate by an almost 2-1 margin over the People's Minority party.

The election was ordered last April by the State Election Board after Harrietta officials continued to bypass a state law requiring village elections every year. The village's last election was Jan. 19, 1955.

One trustee, defending the election skipping, said annual voting cost too much and the same group was returned to office every time a vote was held anyway.

Mrs. Allen Larcom was elected village president, succeeding her late husband who died May 4. Mrs. Mary Martin was re-elected treasurer; Donald Spoylar, assessor; and his father John L. Spoylar was one of four party candidates named as a village trustee.

Texas Unemployment Figures Declining

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — For the third straight week the number of Texas jobless filing claims has declined.

The Texas Employment Commission said yesterday 81,913 persons filed for unemployment compensation during the week ending May 29 compared with 83,099 the previous week. For the week ending May 14 the total was 86,528.

The totals were still about 2½ times as high as a year ago when unemployment claims for the similar period were 33,620.

Army Redstone Combat Tested At Inland Site

WHITE SANDS RANGE, N.M. (AP) — Army troops last night successfully tested the combat readiness of the Redstone missile, an Army announcement said.

Troops of the 40th Field Artillery Missile Group launched the intermediate range missile under tactical conditions on the desert sands at the nation's largest overland rocket and missile testing center.

The Army said the firing marked the first time a Redstone missile was launched inland. Officials would not say how far the missile went or where it went.

The Redstone was the basic missile used in launching the Explorer earth satellite. It has a range of 200 to 250 miles and previously had been launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Cape Canaveral launching also was handled by troops of the 40th Group — which as little as 18 months ago had on its rolls the last mule pack company in the U.S. Army.

The Redstone was programmed at less than its full range in last night's firing, the Army said.

In the firing light-weight erection equipment was substituted for the giant crane or service tower used at Cape Canaveral.

Chuck Berry Arrested On Weapons Charge

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (AP) — Chuck Berry, rock 'n' roll singer, guitarist and song writer, was arrested on a concealed weapons charge yesterday on the outskirts of St. Charles.

A policeman making a routine check said he found a loaded .25 caliber revolver under the front seat of Berry's pink Cadillac.

Berry, 31, was fined $30 and costs after pleading guilty before a magistrate on charges of driving without a proper license and for improper registration of the car.

Then he peeled $1,250 off a roll of cash he was carrying and made bond on the concealed weapons charge. A preliminary hearing was set for June 20.

Berry was changing a tire on the Cadillac when patrolman Andrew Pallardy asked for his driver's license and found it had expired. An 18-year-old woman was with Berry.

When a reporter later asked Berry for comment at his home in St. Louis, he said: "Man, like I'm sleeping. Like call me tomorrow."

Answers Divorce Suit With Cross Complaint

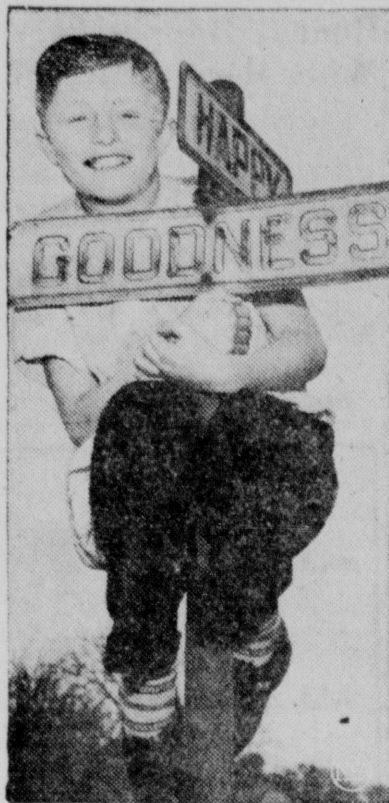

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Producer Otto Preminger's wife sued him for divorce, charging adultery. Preminger, 50, answered yesterday with a cross complaint. The charge: adultery.

In Preminger's suit, he denied charges brought by his wife Mary, 39, that he was intimate with three women. He accused her of having an affair with British actor Michael Rennie.

Navy Intends To Continue Launchings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite four failures in five attempts, the Navy will continue trying to blast Vanguard satellites into orbit.

This is the blunt answer given at the Pentagon to inquiries as to why the Vanguard project isn't dropped in favor of more satellite launchings with the Army's Jupiter-C rocket combine.

The Defense Department says its reasons for sticking with Vanguards are that they are the best vehicles available — when they work — and that the country requires a greater return on the millions invested in the program.

The Navy, administering the Vanguard project for the U. S. contribution to the International Geophysical Year program, already has poured at least 110 million dollars into development and preliminary testing.

Six or seven additional Vanguards with fully instrumented satellite spheres, each costing about one million dollars, already have been made or are under construction.

Dr. Wernher von Braun, the Army's rocket specialist, has described the Vanguard as a sophisticated rocket combination for earth orbiting satellites. In simple language, this means that the three-stage rocket and its specially designed 21½-pound moon are exceedingly complicated, which is one reason why it has been so difficult to make them work.

But when a Vanguard rocket works, as one did in getting a tiny satellite into orbit on St. Patrick's Day, it is far more efficient than the Jupiter-C as a moon launcher. It takes 2,200 pounds of fuel and hardware to orbit one pound of payload instruments with a Jupiter-C rocket combine. The Vanguard lifts one pound of instruments into space with only 1,000 pounds of fuel and hardware.

The grapefruit-sized satellite launched by the Navy on March 17 worked so well that a nearly ideal orbit was achieved, leading scientists to prophesy a 200-year life for the tiny satellite.

Space Agency Bill Moves To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Passed unanimously by the House, a bill to create a civilian space agency moved today toward prompt consideration in the Senate.

The Senate Space Committee under Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) planned to start closed-session work on the legislation by the end of the week.

Along with it, the House sent a strong call for international cooperation in the peaceful exploration of space.

President Eisenhower urgently asked Congress for the bill two months ago. He said a new agency to direct America's nonmilitary space activities is needed to make the most of U.S. efforts.

As passed by voice vote in the House Monday, the measure generally follows the Eisenhower plan.

The new National Aeronautics and Space Administration would be headed by a $22,500-a-year civilian. It would absorb the long-established National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, an air flight research agency.

Lines of cooperation between NASA and the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission would be set up through liaison committees. Unresolved disputes over who should handle space projects would be settled by the President.

Left in the bill without opposition was a precedent-setting anti-secrecy provision saying NASA must make its nonsecurity information available to the public.

Elfrida Becomes All-Time High TV Money Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Elfrida von Nardoff last night became the all-time high money winner on television quiz shows.

The 32-year-old Brooklyn woman raised her winnings to $237,500 by defeating two contestants on the NBC show Twenty-one.

The $21,000 she picked up last night pushed her ahead of Robert Strom of the Bronx, an 11-year-old science whiz, who amassed $224,000 on two different shows.

Miss von Nardoff's victims were Charles Hewitt, an insurance consultant from New Brunswick, N.J., and Emile Libresco, an industrial relations consultant from Pound Ridge, N.Y. She blanked them both 21-0.

Hewitt didn't know that Andrew Johnson had been military governor of Tennessee and vice president before he became president. Libresco failed to name poet Edwin Arlington Robinson as the author of "Miniver Cheevy" and
